What to expect

No press releases, no vendor fluff. Each issue is a working document from the compliance frontier:

- CMMC 2.0 and NIST 800-171 - scoping, evidence discipline, and what assessors actually ask for
- RMF and ATO work - where authorization packages stall and how to keep them moving
- CUI handling - enclave architecture, marking, and the operational realities behind the policy
- Small-business defense contracting - compliance economics when you don't have a Fortune 500 security budget

How it works

Every article is written, reviewed, and versioned in the open - the newsletter is published from a Git repository, reviewed like code, and deployed like software. That's not a gimmick; it's the same documentation-as-you-build discipline we push on every engagement.

If there's a topic you want covered, tell us. If you're facing one of these problems right now, start a readiness conversation.

Welcome aboard. ◆
